NESBITT ADMITS NEED OF COUNTY REPAIR ON ROADS

State Highway Commissioner Says Canadian Bridge Matter of County Finance

STATE ROADS IN NEED

Commissioner Declares Poorer Counties in State to Receive Aid

That federal aid can be obtained to assist in building a bridge across the South Canadian river north of Ada when the two counties involved find the money to meet it was the assurance given by Paul Nesbitt, State Highway Commissioner, here Saturday evening.

Mr. Nesbitt came to Ada on one of his trips out over the state to see what the various counties need and to determine in what way his department can best serve the needs. A number of business men, county commissioners, farmers and professional men entertained and were entertained by Mr. Nesbitt at dinner at the Harris Saturday evening.

Albert Chamberlain, Bud Taylor and J. O. McMinn told those present of the condition of the roads in the county, pointing out the damage that has been done by the heavy rains of the last few days.

Hon Fred F. Brydia introduced Mr. Nesbitt and told of his object in persuading the highway commissioner to come to this county. He spoke of Mr. Nesbitt in the highest terms and predicted that he would make the best highway commissioner the state has ever had.

Problems Face State

The commissioner pointed out some of the problems that are facing him and the county commissioners of the entire state as a result of the unprecedented floods. The great trouble is that enough money is not available to do the things in urgent need of being done, but the roads and bridges are essential and must be replaced, Nesbitt said. It may be necessary for counties to borrow the money, but the bridges and roads must be provided since they are the arteries of trade and serve the same purpose as the railroads served years ago. Nesbitt added.

Commissioner Nesbitt stressed stressed the point that Pontotoc county is in an enviable position. With a valuation of something like $18,000,000 it has almost no bonded indebtedness, he added.

The poorer counties are going to get the most of the federal aid under the present administration, the commissioner assured those present. In the past the rich counties have been grabbing all the federal aid. This is to be changed and part of the money is to be spent in the counties not able to do for themselves, he stated.

Highway Bill Useful

"Under the highway bill as passed by the last legislature, the state highway department will have an estimated income from the one cent a gallon tax on gasoline of $1,500,000. This will be used in each county in proportion to the mileage of state roads. A patrol system of road maintenance is to be put into effect, and the roads kept as nearly perfect as those funds will permit. It is estimated this will allow about $100 a mile each year." he said.

Cooperation with the county commissioners is to be the intention of the highway department. Only by close cooperation can the best results be obtained. Mr. Nesbitt believes, and he is willing to give and get that cooperation.

Others who talked on the problems were J. I. Laughlin, Orel Busby, Luther Harrison and others.

The idea was advanced that a bond issue should be submitted to the people, asking for funds to rebuild the destroyed bridges and also Pontotoc county's share of the cost of a bridge across the river.

MOROS SLAIN IN REBEL FIGHTING

Fifty-three Reported Killed In Uprising of Natives in Phillipines

(By the Associated Press)

MANILA, June 2.—Fifty-three fanatical Moros, including Akbara, the self-styled bullet-proof prophet, have been killed in fighting with the constabulary of the islane of Pata near Jolo (Sulu). No details of the uprisings have been received.

On May 21 a similar Moro uprising in the same locality was reported to Manila. At that time it was said that Akbara, who called himself a prophet from heaven and said no bullet could touch him, led his followers in an attack on soldiers of the constabulary. In the fight that followed 25 Moros were reported slain and it was declared that Akbara was among the dead. Later it was established that he had escaped. The constbulary suffered no casualties.

Although dispatches then indicated that the uprising had been quelled reinforcements were sent to the insular constabulary. Before that Governor General Wood learning that the Moros were practicing lawlessness in the region had sent a detachment of constablary to Pata to cope with the situation.

SMITH ACT HARD BLOW FOR ANTIS

Repeal of New York State Law Adds Complication To Enforcement

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 2.—Gennaro Celonginoni, arrested last night charged with possessing 110 gallons of wine, was discharged today by Magistrate Goodman on the ground that the court had no jurisdiction since the arrest was made after Governor Smith signed the repeal of the Mullan-Gage state prohibition enforcement act.

Magistrate Goodman ordered the police to take the prisoner before a federal commissioner.

The case was the first violation of the dry laws to come before a state court since Governor Smith signed the repeal.

David Rosenburg, arrested for alleged violation of the Mullan-Gage act two hours before Governor Smith acted on the repeal, was held in $1,000 bail for examinaation by Magistrate Goodman.

MADISON Wis. June 2.—Encouraged by repeal of the Mullan-Gage enforcement law in New York, the wets in the Wisconsin legislature announced today that they plan next week to move to take from the table the Tucker bill providing for repeal of the Severson prohibition enforcement law in Wisconsin. The measure faced by defeat in the lower house while in session is now to be revised by anti-prohibitionist forces who hold the upper hand in the assembly, according to Assembiyman Herman G. Tucker of Milwaukee, author of the repeal bill.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—An attitude of waiting was maintained today by the federal government toward the New York prohibition enforcement situation resulting from Governor Smith's signature of the New York enforcement law repeal.

Commissioner Haynes and other officials remained silent and it was indicated that determination of a policy would await the outcome of future conferences in which President Harding may have the deciding voice.

Pursuant to a call issued a short time ago some 200 members of the Chickasaw and Choctaw tribes met at the court house in Ada Saturday afternoon to consider action on the suggestion or proposal to turn the proceeds of the sale of the mineral lands and other property into an endowment for tribal schools. George Burris was elected chairman of the meeting and Ben Hampton secretary.

The meeting went on record unanimously as opposed to the proposition, favoring the carrying out of the Atoka agreement for the sale of the tribal property and distribution on a per capito basis. The officers were authorized to call another meeting any time the occasion may arise.

The following delegates were chosen to attend the general meeting to be held at Durant June 7: George W. Burris, Ben V Hampton, Tom Anderson, Thomas Puller, O W. Taylor, J. W. Hattox, Mrs. George Berry, Joe Thomas, H. Underwood, Georgia Brashears and Rev. Mose Wesley.

SHORT'S EFFORTS DISSOLVE ORDER FOR INJUNCTION

Attorney General Contends Complaint Not From Proper Source

WILSON TAKES OATH

Judge Zwick Hits Restraining Order Obtained by Eskridge

(By the Associated Press)

Oklahoma City, June 2.—District Judge William H. Zwick late today dissolved the temporary injunction obtained last Wednesday by J. B. Eskridge, retiring president of Oklahoma A and M. College restraining President-elect George Wilson from taking office at Stillwater before uly 1. The restraining order was vacated on motion of Attorney General George Short after lengthy argument.

Wilson was preparing today to take control of the college. He took the oath of office Friday before Judge Thomas Doyle of the Criminal Court of Appeals and today delivered the notification to the secretary of state and John A. Whitehurst, secretary of the state board.

Attorney General Short, who acted at the direction of Governor Walton, attacked the injunction on the grounds that the jurisdiction of a court of equity did not extend to such a case; that the plaintiff was not the proper plaintiff; and that charges were made by Eskridge in his petition for the injunction which did not make out a prima facie case.

The state auditor was the proper one to make complaint if a conspiracy was afoot to suppress an audit of the accounts of M. J. Otey, suspected financial secretary of the college as alleged by Eskridge, the attorney general charged.

June Not Too Warm For Dan Cupid Visits

Dan Cupid turned on his electric fan and started his business session in earnest when the calendar turned favorably towards the month of June.

Losing no time in his intricate duties, his matrimonial agents at the marriage license bureau enjoyed a busy session Saturday when four couples accepted the traditional decree of jumping off the matrimonial gang plank.

Judging by the early start of marital activities, June, 1923, threatens to surpass all records and hang up a new mark for future generations to marry on.

The majority of the marriages of late have been subjected to the hasty solemnity of justice pronouncement, ordained church authorities being slighted in more than several instances.

The greater part of the marriage pilgrims of the past month and up to the present date have been from rural precincts in the county, Ada being slighted in the grand total of marriage license bureau officials.

Following are the list of June plunges listed for Saturday: B. E. Brookshire and Kate Glasgow, of Roff; W. C. Fronterhouse and Pearl Kimbrough, of Atoka; Patrick Owen Fagan of Sulphur, and Thelma Louise Cowart, of Ada; M. J. Kincaid, and Ester Neely, of Ada.

Smith Maintains Associated Press Broke Confidence

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK June 2. Governor Smith at Albany today issued a statement accusing the Associated Press of having violated his confidence in announcing at 6:10 o'clock last night that he had signed the Mullan-Gage repeal bill. The governor had intendedd that the morning papers should first have the news, which because of the difference in time, was received by some afternoon papers in time for publication. When the statement was shown to the general manager of the A. P. he said that he regretted the governor had been disappointed but there had been no breach of faith since no pledge been given.

Lightning Breaks Up Party

(By the Associated Press)

DALLAS, June 2.—A bolt of lightning flashing through a treetop snuffed out the lives of David L. Bettison Jr., eight years old, and Harry Wrather, nine, this afternoon and cut short preparations for David's birthday party later today. Three companions suffered injuries.

The lightning crashed in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs Edward Harrison, Swiss Avenue, in fashionable Gongree place.

Screams from half a dozen boy's throats and the shattering of a treetop simultaneously with a lightning flash and roar of thunder directed neighborhood attention to the tragedy.

Harry fell prone on the ground from a position at an impromptu soda water stand erected the day before by some boys. David, the birthday boy, crumpled in a heap, where he expired. Two other schoolboys who owned the stand were inside and escaped death.

TRAVEL HURT BY ROAD CONDITION

Motor Club Official Reports on Highway Conditions in Ada Territory.

Roads leading into and out of Ada are in many cases impassable for automobiles, ccording to reports received by N. B. Stall, Ada motor club official of this city. These conditions are due to the heavy rains of the past two weeks, most of the damage being due to the washed out roads.

According to these reports, the road from Ada to Stratford is practically impassable. Stonewall may be reached very well by one road but the Ozark Trail route is in poor condition for travel. The Allen road is passable, but badly washed. Roads leading south to Madill and Atoka are in very good shape, according to Mr. Stall, and offer probably the best way of getting out of Ada by car.

Mr. Stall states that he has been called on for information a number of times by tourists, who are increasing pilgrimages as the warm weather approaches. The heavy tourist trade will begin about the middle of this month, he said, and will continue until about the last part of August.

Indications are now that Ada will see the biggest tourist traffic ever known here, probably a volume of vacationists equal to that of any other two years before.

If the roads are repaired immediately they can be put into use within two weeks, reports show, according to Mr. Stall. Complete restoration will require at least a month.

Saturday

Set Aside by Business Men as Occasion to Receive farmers.

Saturday is farmer's day in Ada. Early on Saturday morning the dweller in the country gathers about him his family and adjourns to town in a car or wagon, depending on his financial status.

Arrived in Ada, the entire family does whatever shopping will suffice for the week to come, leaving for the next week-end something which will bring them again to these surroundings.

All business places are open to do ihs pleasure. Special bargains are spread out eagerly before his (or her)gaze to attempt a purchase. All combine to do him honor during his sojourn with the city dwellers.

The voice of the auctioneer is loud in the street, offering to all and sundry remarkable oportunities for fortunate purchase. Numerous attractions vie with one another for the attention of the holiday farmer, who goes his own way regardless unless they offer what he wants.

Throughout the day the sidewalks are thronged with out of town people, buying, selling, moving always, showing to the careful observer these who are behind the town's prosperity.

Questions of momentous importance are settled in the gathering of sidewalk solons, ranging from prices to politics. Friend meets friend after a separation that makes the meeting more enjoyable.

When the rush of the day is over the farmer gathers about him his brood and leaves the hot and dusty pavement for the freshness of country home, until the heat and throngs are forgotten at the end of another week it is again time to journey to town.

BOMB EXPLOSION IN RUHR TRAFFIC

Germans Bomb Tracks Carrying Trains of Coal for French Operators

(By the Associated Press)

DUSSELDORF, June 2.—The main line railroad used by the French for the transportation of coal and coke out of th occupied Ruhr district was cut early today by the explosion of bombs. Both tracks were blown up for a considerable distance and traffic will be interrupted for some time.

A coal train was derailed by the damaged track. In two other cases contact bombs were exploded when struck by locomotives, both engines being derailed.

As in most cases recently the sabotage ocurred in a wooded district. The French have ordered that trees be cut down to a distance of two hundred meters on each side of the right of way in all districts where attempts have been made to cut the rails. The French announced that German civilians must chop down the trees and that the burgomasters of the various towns will be called upon to supply the wood cutters.

The Germans were particularly attached to their forests and large numbers are expected to refuse to aid in the work as part of their policy of resistance against the occupation authorities.

SMITH LIFTS LID AND RAPS BOOZE LAW IN NEW YORK

New York Governor Puts His Stamp on Repeal of Mullan-Gage Act

NO CHANGES NOTICED

Asks for "Common Sense" Tactics in Dealing With Booze Cases

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 2.—Despite repeal of the Mullan-Gage state prohibition enforcement act made effective by Governor Smith's signature last night police and state officials continued today to arrest offenders of dry laws and state courts proceeded with prosecution of offenders arrested up until last night.

The only apparent effect of the repeal was the transfer of prosecutions in cases of new offenders from the state to the federal courts. Predicted withdrawal from the enforcement ranks of city and state police authorities which consequent laxity in the enforcement of the federal dry laws failed to materialize. Instead Police Commissioner Enright announced that the police department would continue to enforce the Volstead act and District Attorneys Banton and Dodd declared their offices would continue to prosecute cases already before them.

While Mayor Hylan refused to discuss the situation Commissioner Enright declared that a conference would be held next week with legal representatives of city, state and nation attending to determine the best method of procedure.

In announcing his action the governor called for "common sense" modification of the Volstead Act by congress which would fix the alcoholic content of permissible beverages at a point that would make possible the sale of beer and light wines in the states that want them.

This answer to appeals from many sources for action that would start the ball rolling toward modification of the Volstead Act is counted on by his supporters to make him a formidable bidder for the presidential nomination on a "liberal" platform in 1924.

The Mullan-Gage act passed out with few formalities. Reporters who had swarmed the corridors about the executive chamber all day were admitted at six o'clock, just in time to see the governor lifting the blotter from his wet signature. He smiled and said, "boys, I have just approved the bill."

Motion picture cameramen ground out a few yards of film and it was all over.

In announcing his decision Governor Smith made public a memorandum of nearly four thousand words explaining exhaustively why he had approved the repeal.

Declaring the eighteenth amendment was just as effective in New York as it ever had been, and that he would require all state officers to help the federal government in strict enforcement of the Volstead Act, he gave these three conditions he said would be established by the completion of the repeal:

First, guarantee all citizens against their being placed in "double jeopardy" for possible violation of the eighteenth amendment;

Second, put the state in harmony with the recent decision of Federal Judge Knox of New York declaring unconstitutional that part of the Volstead Act which restricts the amount of liquor a physician may prescribe for any individual patient.

Third, to bring about prosecution of all violators of the eighteenth amendment in federal courts where offenders will be made to realize that it is the constitution they are violating and not "merely a local regulation."

Foreign Diplomats Hold Hopes Liquor Ruling May Wait

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 2.—In the apparent belief that the treasury will apply strictly the supreme court edict against liquor on foreign ships despite representations from abroad, diplomatic representatives of the maritime powers here are anxiously awaiting a decision as to the date on which the new regulations are to become effective. Some of the interested diplomats appear convinced that treasury officials will not adhere to the original decision to put the regulations into effect June 10. In some quarters the hope even is expressed that they may not be issued until Congress has had an opportunity to take some action to meet the objections of the powers.

Poor Agnes

Genius has disturbed the News office.

The city editor's faithful typewriter, the subject of continued onslaughts of strenuous forefinger movement, has been condemned in a scurrilous contribution of an anonymous author.

Resting in the security of a well-earned respite from associations with city news scandal, this trusty servant suffered the rattling discourse of this unknown invader.

While it had been rumored in guarded conference that this servant of scandal would be guillotined on the bargain counter for a trusty steed of later make, the secret had been hushed with the same delicacy one holds for an aged mother who has poured the fruits of her life in service for the bettering of mankind.

In due respect to the feelings of "Agnes," the faithful typewriter, we publish:

What is the matter with this wreck?

It needs an introduction to the dump heap or a place in the home for aged and indignant typewriters. It should be put on a pension cased in glass for the bull that has flowed from off its ribbon, has been the life of the sheet. Sob stories, sports, murders, weddings, births, POLITICS, and everything that goes to make the news of the day has been born within the roll of its platten. Truly some scribe should say "Well done thou good old faithful battleship, enter thou into the reward of the faithful of thy kind, for the exchange man has allowed the office $10.00 exchange for thy quivering, ramshackle frame." And such is the gratitude of the world.

Let Me Kill Your Boll Weevils

My name is L. D. Hill. My father was Dr. J. C. Hill, of Drone, Ga. The Hill family have been living in Georgia for 71 years, and I have been raising cotton, corn and hogs, since I was old enough to hold the plow handles. During the last 25 years, I have run my 14 plantations at Gough in Burke County, Georgia, near Augusta, and in 1922 raised 694 bales of cotton on 812 acres planted in cotton.

By close observation, unceasing effort and practical experience, I have perfected what I believe to be the most successful of all boll weevil poisons.

Go Ahead And Plant Your Cotton And Leave The Boll-Weevils To Me

and you'll be raising more cotton to carry to the gin than you ever dared hope to raise since the Mexican boll weevil moved into the Southern States. You can kill off the weevils on a year's crop of cotton at a small cost per acre, and the only machinery you'll have to have will be an old tin can or bucket, and a mop made of a stick and a rag.

Now Let's Get Right Down To Business!

The real money crop of the South is cotton, and the way to make money in the South is to raise cotton. But—how are you going to raise cotton with the boll weevil, is what every farmer in the South wants to know.

Many methods of controlling the weevil have been tried, with varying success. Thousands of farmers have invested their money in machinery which did not work, and their time and effort in methods which were experiments, and did not protect their cotton.

But I have proved on my own 812 acre farm, and on the farms of scores of my neighbors in Burke County, that you can beat the boll weevil by a sure, cheap method, and that is by the application of

HILL'S A BOLL WEEVIL TRADE MARK KILLER MIXTURE

Hill's Mixture is manufactured in the South's largest boll weevil poison plant.

The calcium arsenate, molasses and other ingredients are accurately measured in the exact proportions, and thoroughly mixed by machines which distribute the poison evenly in the molasses. Every mix is chemically analyzed before shipping.

Hill's Mixture is approved by the Georgia State Board of Entomology as a boll weevil poison.

Hill's Mixture is a liquid poison, composed of calcium arsenate, molasses, water and secret ingredients which form a combination that we are convinced, from results obtained, attracts the boll weevil.

You can put Hill's Mixture on in the daytime, without machinery, with inexperienced labor. One colored boy or girl can cover six acres a day. A rain of under one-half inch has little effect on it, and it costs from one-half to one-fifth of the dusting method.

On 1% of the Acreage I Raised 4% of The Cotton in Burke County in 1922

My neighbors first used it in small quantities, but the news of its success spread so fast that hundreds of farmers used it last year, and hundreds of acres in Burke County were protected from the boll weevil by Hill's Mixture last year. The farmers who used it last year are going to use it again.

LET ME SHOW YOU THE PROOF!

If you want proof of Hill's Mixture before you buy, my agent will show you copies of wonderful letters of recommendation, from some of the oldest and ablest farmers in this section of the State.

Rains to Result in Planting for Crop of Feedstuff

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 2.—Recent heavy rains which have washed out considerable cotton acreage over the state will probably result in production of a large crop of feed stuffs this year, according to John A. Whitehurst, president of the state board of agriculture.

Whitehurst said he had been advised from several sections that much of the cotton which has been washed out will be replaced with kafir crops. Continued cold weather in the late spring will also necessitate replanting of cotton in some sections, or its replacement by other crops, Whitehurst said.

A scarcity of broom corn seed for replanting that crop, large acreages of which were washed out by rains in the Pauls Valley section of the state is confronting growers, according to reports received by the agricultural board chief.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

REFUGE FROM CALAMITY: Yea, in the shadow of thy wings will I make my refuge, until these calamities be overpast.—Psalms 57:1.

A BAD PRECEDENT.

The strongest argument against the election of George Wilson to the presidency of our great agricultural and mechanical college is his attitude towards the American Legion and his past record in this respect. That was enough, in our opinion, to disqualify him for the important place.

There is another phase of the matter, however, which in the main has been overlooked. That phase is the precedent it gives of putting in places of importance in the teaching profession men who have not climbed the rocky heights to educational attainment.

For a century the standard of educational attainment has been going higher and higher. We have taught our children that the way to go to the top of the educational work is to do it by burning midnight oil—now electricity—and reaching the heights by obtaining degrees or publicly acknowledged scholarship. It is certainly not an incentive to teachers to pay out money and work long years to gain a higher education if the choice positions are to be awarded to one one who has not accomplished anything in scholarship or research or discovery or invention.

TO LIVE BETTER.

This trite expression is called forth by a sentiment expressed by Ed Howe. This Kansas philosopher says that the world cannot be made better by more laws or more wars, but will be made better by individuals living better. Can you beat that simple method of improving the world?

The world, and more especially Oklahoma, is willing to be reformed. The trouble with most of us, however, is that we want to do the reforming and let the other fellow be reformed. As some nut expressed the matter, we are inclined to see ourselves as economical, the other fellow as stingy, ourselves as frank, the other fellow as rude; ourselves as progressive, the other fellow as radical; ourselves as liberal, the other fellow as irreligious.

Don't you think it is time we were recalling that very sublime prayer, "Create in ME a clean heart, O, Lord."

EVERY SECTION HAS ITS PROBLEMS.

Every section of the country has its problem. In one place the problem is taking care of flood waters, in another the need for better roads, in another the need for more moisture. No section is so well blessed that nothing is left for man to do. The Creator knew that man reaches his greatest usefulness only after a long hard struggle. When a handicap has been overcome, the individual is then able to soar to heights undreamed of before.

Our great problem at this time is roads. We are now face to face with the problem as we have not been before in several years. The recent rains have sent wooden bridges scurrying into the rivers. Churches can not be reached, some farmers can hardly get to town. tourists will avoid the section. Speedy action is necessary to avoid great losses.

If we have any conception of the meaning of the word "sacrilligious" the much discussed painting representing a raid by W. J. Bryan and other dry leaders on Christ as he turned the water at the wedding feast into wine is the limit along this line. Turning the water into wine had nothing in common with the liquor business of modern times when the real power of the land was centered in the saloons. No one has ever suggested that Christ would approve of the corruption which had its origin in liquor traffic. He taught respect for law and order, but the whiskey traffic defied all attempts at regulation and strove to break down the very things that Christ advocated.

Gov. Al Smith of New York has signed the bill repealing the prohibition enforcement law, thus arraying himself definitely on the side of the violators of the national constitution. Smith was under the thumb of Tammany and dared not refuse to obey the mandate of the gang which has ruled and plundered New York for so many years.

Press dispatches state that a newspaper man at Wichita Falls was held up and robbed of a valuable watch and $30 in cash and had another roll of $80 which the holdup men overlooked. How a newspaper man came into possession of that much ready cash has not been explained.

Oklahoma is said to be in line for the 1924 meeting of the National Press association. This is a big event and Oklahoma will make the meeting an occasion to be remembered if the editors decide to meet in this state.

A $400,000 cotton mill is in course of building at Sand Springs. Ardmore is out after one. These mills are big money makers in other places, so why not in Oklahoma?

Clistening Marble Cross To Mark Site of Historic Meeting in New Hampshire

(By the Associated Press)

BENNINGTON, Vt., June 1.—Ground has been broken here for the erection of a memorial monument to mark the site of the first meeting house in the Hampshire Grants, now the state of Vermont, which was intimately associated with the battle of Iconderoga and Bennington in the Revolutionary war and with the early history of the state. The monument, which is the gift of Mrs. Elinor Squier of New York to the Bennington Battle Monument and Historical Society, will be dedicated on July 8.

In the centre of a Maltese cross 42 feet in diameter formed by embedding 1,220 marble slabs in the turf will rise a shrine of Vermont grey marble 12 feet high and six feet wide. On this will be placed two tablets. one bearing an inscription telling the history of the site and a low relief of the meeting house and the other having a reproduction of the great seal of the state.

The inscription prepared for the monument recites the erection of the meeting house, "a plain building of unpainted wood," in 1763-65 and deals with the stirring events of colonial days as follows:

"Here the forefathers met in prayer for assistance against the oppressive measures of New York and the overwhelming power of King George. Hither the settlers returned from the capture to Ticonderoga. the battle of Bennington and the surrender of Burgoyne to offer their thanksgivings, and here were brought the 700 prisoners captured on August 16, 1777.

"For 40 years the centre of the religious life of the community, the meeting house was also connected with the political life of the state. Vermont was an independent republic from January 17, 1777, to its admission into the Union March 4, 1791. The first legislature met at Windsor in 1778 and adjourned to Bennington for its June session, held on this site. The laws for carrying on the government of this sovereign state were enacted at the session of the legislature which assembled in the meeting house February 11, 1779.

"Here met the convention, consisting of one delegate from each town, which on January 10, 1791, ratified the constitution of the United States by the signatures of 105 out of 109 delegates, thereby preparing the way for the admission of Vermont into the Union as the first state after the original thirteen."

The first meeting house stood until 1806, when it was replaced by a church which is still standing. The monument will stand on the village green a few feet from the present church.

New Observatory to be Hewn Down on Rock Platform

(By the Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 1.—A subterranean seismic observatory which probably will be the most completely equipped in America will be hewn in solid rock underlying the campus of the new St. Ignatius college in Fairmount Heights, Rev. Frederick L. Odenbach, S. J., professor of natural sciences and curator of the college observatory, announces.

"The rock underlying the new campus will give me a perfect foundation for my pendulums and seismograph instruments," Father Odenbach said. "With this I shall be able to record the slightest tremor without the interference of local surface disturbances.

"At present a passing street car or motor truck makes its impression on some of my more delicate pendulums."

GUTHRIE.—With the receipt of word here of the death of Miss Alma Carson, while on a visit at Greenfield, Ky., old residents recalled that Miss Carson was the first public school teacher at this former capital of Oklahoma. Miss Carson taught in local schools 26 years without interruption, and death came to her at the age of 75. When she saw her first motion picture fifteen years ago she hailed it in a newspaper interview as the "inception of visual education."

The Forum of the Press

The Miracles of Time.
(Star-Telegram)

The son of General Funston and the son of Aguinaldo are going to be classmates at West Point! It will be remembered that it was the elder Funston who captured the elder Aguinaldo back in the days when "expansion and imperialism" was an issue.

In those days Aguinaldo was regarded as the "arch enemy of the United States" by some of us, and as a supreme patriot by others.

Aguinaldo has since become a very good friend of the United States in the Philippines and he himself would tell you that he was wrong in those days.

But then he no doubt regarded General Funston as his worst enemy.

Now it is predicted that young Funston and young Aguinaldo will become warm friends at West Point.

So does time bring changes—so does it heal all wounds.

The calamities which the orators told us would happen if we kept the Philippines did not happen—either to us or the Philippines.

The next generation smiles over the heated struggles of their fathers.

It is a comforting hot weather thought; it makes the perplexities of the passing day seem less direful.

We can be assured that "this, too, will pass," and that "it will all be the same a hundred years hence."

Growth of City Manager Plan.
(Topeka Capital)

City manager government has spread so rapidly in the last few years, some 80 cities having adopted it in the last year alone, that the Ninth Annual Yearbook of the National City Manager's association is an imposing volume of more than 250 pages, a document full of information on what is doing in city government under this plan.

A map of city manager municipalities in the United States shows graphically how this system spreads by contact. There are five marked divisions where the city manager has taken a grip. One is Michigan, in which 30 cities are under the manager plan, and it extends down from Michigan into Ohio, with 13 cities, one of which, Cleveland, is the largest American city under this plan. Another section is Virginia and the Carolinas, the city manager plan having originated in Virginia. A third is Florida, a fourth is California and a fifth includes northern Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

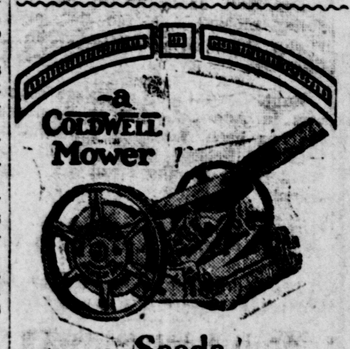

It will surprise many readers to know that there are no less than 12 cities and towns in this state under the city manager plan, and 21 in Oklahoma. Texas has 22. A few scattered cities have adopted the plan west of the Rocky Mountains, and California has taken to it largely, with 30 cities under city managers. There are 105 cities west of the Missouri river on the city manager plan and 151 cities east of the Mississippi. Between the Mississippi and Missouri there are 21 mainly in Minnesota, 1 of which cities have adopted the city manager system.

In an address on "Eight Years of Commission-Manager government in Dayton," printed in the Yearbook the secretary of Dayton's public health league says of popular sentiment that opposition to this plan "will never prevail against the vast majority of people, who today know what government on a cash basis is, and who know what government by deficit used to be."

Glider Weighs Only 30 pounds

BERLIN, June 1.—A German inventor has produced a one-man glider resembling in some ways a parachute, which weighs only 30 pounds and can be folded up and easily carried. He has made two successful flights in the outskirts of Berlin.

Fagan-Cowart

A beautiful wedding was solemnized Saturday morning June 2 at 10 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Emma Cowart 821 East 14th street when her daughter Thelma Louise was married to Mr. Patrick Fagan of Sulphur, Okla., amidst a bower of Dorothy Perkins roses and ferns.

The home was beautifully decorated in cluster baskets of Dorothy Perkins and Bride's roses where the immediate family and friends gathered to witness the ever impressive ring ceremony performed by Rev. Clyde Calhoun Morris of the First Baptist Church.

The bride who was unattended, wore a dainty girlish dress of white organdie over white satin and carried an arm bouquet of Bride's roses, carnations and ferns.

Mrs. Fagan has lived in Ada for a number of years and was a popular member of the student body of East Central College from which place she was a graduate in the class of 1922. Mr. Fagan is a member of the fire department of Sulphur and is a popular young man among his associates both socially and in the business world. The young couple left on a short honeymoon overland in their car, a gift to the bride, after which they will make their home in Sulphur.

COMMUNITY CHORAL CLUB ENDS YEAR'S PROGRAM

The successful termination of the first year's work of the Community Choral club was fittingly climaxed Thursday evening at the McSwain theatre when the club members with the Woman's Choral club presented the concluding concert of the season.

Only high tributes of praise have been voiced by an audience of critics who heard the final presentation of the season Thursday night. The club as a whole has been awarded the endorsement of the music loving patrons of Ada, as was evident in the interest of the audience.

The concert has been favorably commended by all as one of the best heard here. Tone quality, volume, class of renditions and the general completeness of the presentation as a whole as well as solo numbers have received merited appreciation.

Much credit for the success of the final presentation is due to the directorship of Edgar M. Cooke of Oklahoma City, who has had charge of the leadership of the instruction of club members since its organization here.

The success of the concert has reflected the surety and completeness of consistent training and competent instruction. Director Cooke, in closing the work of the club here for the season ended his activities in Oklahoma for the season having accepted similar work in New York during the summer months.

The success of the Community Choral Club season has been erected on the financial support of the business men of Ada, who pledged financial responsibility for the club during the first season of its existence.

The club, through its first success, has endowed the city with a musical organization that promises to be of musical wealth to the city in years to come and render the financial backers, patrons of an organization beneficial to the city in a musical way.

The Community Choral Club was organized here in January after financial backing had been secured by leaders of the move from the Retail Merchants association, Lions club and city commissioners.

Books were immediately ordered by prospective members of the club and the services of Director Cooke contracted for.

Approximately 80 singers responded to the first call and that number has been loyal to the club work since its organization.

The first presentation of the club was a joint program by club singers with Josef Koneeny, violinist, and his accompanists.

The Community Choral club will have a complete program for next season with the presentation of an oratorio in view.

Boy Scout News

(By Harry Miller)

The most appropriate and beautiful good turn carried out by Ada Scouts was performed at Rosedale cemetery on Memorial Day. At the moment the corner stone was being placed in the Memorial Hall, Marion Oneal a scout of troop No. 2 was stationed at the Sheriff's office and phoned out to the cemetery and at a given signal each boy scout with finger pointed upward to God, then placed a wreath or bouquet of flowers on the graves of the soldiers of the Confederate, Union, Spanish American and World wars. The scouts did this with befitting dignity and solemnity. At the conclusion of this service the boy scouts encircled the grave of Johnie Britt a boy scout and each scout after the group in unison had repeated the oath then stepped forward and placed a flag on his grave, making it one big beautiful bouquet of roses.

We are very proud of the way the Ada scouts conducted themselves during the Memorial Day parade. There were not nearly as many scouts in the parade as there should have been when one considers the number of scouts enrolled in Ada. During Boys Week we will have a very big parade and we are sure that every scout in Ada will want to be in that parade.

Boys' Week starts out with every boy scout going to Sunday school and church. The churches will have speakers from the Ada Lions club who will talk on some phase of boys' problems and work here in Ada.

The Masons of Ada did the boys of Ada a fine good turn last week when they gave $25.00 to be used for the benefit of a picture show to be given to the scouts and their friends. The Ada Masons will be hosts to the boy scouts during one day of the Boys Week program. We are very appreciative indeed of this gift.

The scoutmasters' meeting held last Sunday was a very fine one. Prof. M. P. Hatchett of the Teachers College gave us all some new and exceptionally interesting ideas about the bird life of Oklahoma.

The scoutmasters will meet this Sunday afternoon at the city hall. Come at 1:30. Be prepared to take some of your tests on signaling.

It was a lively time that the scout boys of troop No. 2 showed Scoutmasters Harry Deering and Carl Spangler out at the Lodge Thursday night. The rain during the night so filled the lake that they had to wait a while before they could come back. Earl Yates and Marion Oneal tell some thrilling stories of narrow escapes from flying shoes and other things. Clinton Van Curon is reported to be an ideal scout when it comes to throwing shoes. Twenty?four went on this hike.

Many of the merchants of Ada kindly placed Ads in the paper for coming Boys Week program. We appreciate it very much.

Carl Browall, Ed Gwin, Jr., and Stanley Dean made the round trip from Ada to Sulphur and back in good time. They report a heavy rain the night that they arrived there but being good campers they knew how to take care of themselves. They covered the fifty miles in about ten hours. We congratulate these boys upon the accomplishment of this task. These scouts carried messages to the mayor and chief of Police of Sulphur. We would like to see other scouts do things like this. It develops resourcefulness, courage and endurance.

At the mass meeting of scouts which was very poorly attended, Mr. J. E. Harris of the Harris Paint Shop made this fine proposition to the boys. The second or first class scout who builds the best bungalow and does the best job of painting will get $5.00 in cash. Take a look at a $5.00 bill and say, "I want you and I am going to build the finest looking miniature bungalow that I can. See Mr. Harris at the Harris Paint shop and he will explain to you about the prize. He offers also a second and third prize. Go to it second and first class scouts.

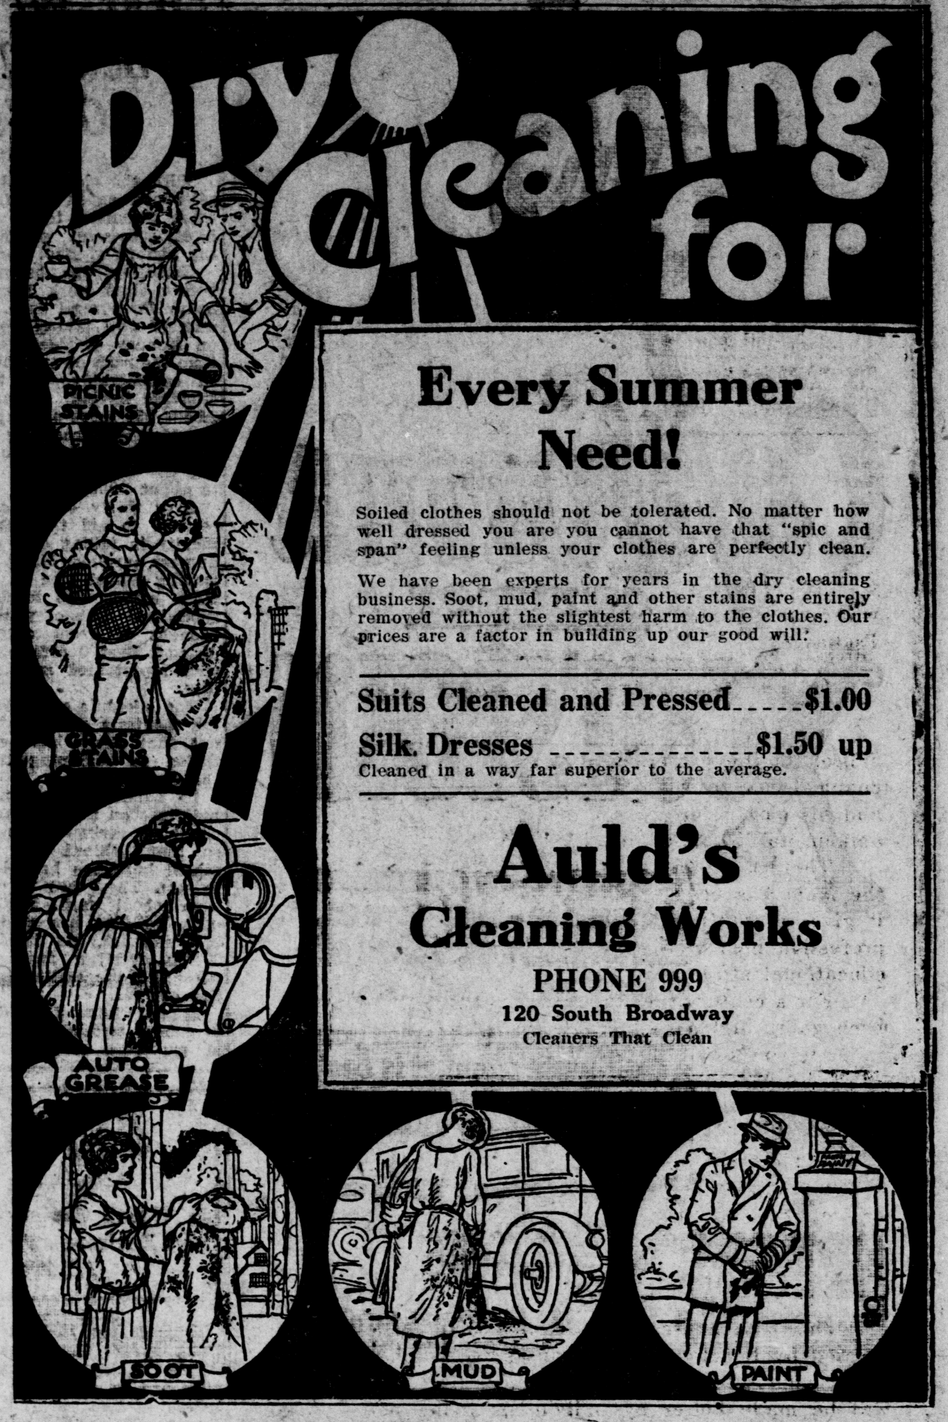

Mr. N. B. Stall was present also and made the scouts a fine proposition. To any scout in Ada that takes the best picture of any object living or in action or beautiful scenery he will give a life size colored picture worth $6.00. This picture will be of the scout who took it. Second prize will be a smaller picture of the scout in Sepia. See Mr. Stall about this picture proposition. You have thirty days in which to do this work. Get busy now. The Southern Ice & Utilities Co. offers to the boy scout who dresses up best as a clown advertising Santa Ice cream $3.00 as first prize, $2.00 as second prize and $1.00 as third prize. Each troop will be allowed but one representative. Here is an opportunity to make some easy money. You have all next week in which to get ready so go to work.

Troop No. 10 went to the Boy Scout Lodge and spent Saturday night there. Eulas Lewis, W. A. Lewis, Dale Buck Wesley Hough, and James Cravy are a few new joiners to the scouts. We are expecting many new members between now and July 1st.

Frank Evans of the Hynds Grocery Co. has kindly consented to act as scoutmaster of troop No. 1 during the absence of Prof. D. T. Bradshaw. This troop for the present will meet with Troop No. 9 at the First Presbyterian church basement. This troop meets Tuesday night.

Notice Boys Scouts

Troop No. 7 will meet at Willard school at 7:45 Monday evening. All scouts are urged to be there. Important business.—Clyde Alletag, Scout Master.

First Week of Summer School Ends With Goal Of Success Now Certain

With the close of classes Friday afternoon ended the first week of what promises to he by far the most successful summer term in the history of East Central college.

Enrolling was begun the week before class work began and was heavy for several days. The greater number now taking work classified on Monday or Tuesday. Since that time the rush of entrants has slacked considerably, the bulk of the students having already arrived. About 150 more are expected to enter Monday, according to an estimate by R. S. Newcomb, thus bringing the enrolment for the summer to about 1850.

Over thirty extra teachers were secured to aid the regular college faculty in taking care of the large number enrolled. Many of these are leading school men in the district, while others who teach in more specialized lines of work have been brought in from outside of the district. East Central graduates are well represented in the extra faculty.

The schedule of classes and plans for the term were so well worked out that there has been no confusion in beginning the work of the summer.

he administration and education buildings on the campus proved too small to accommodate the crowds so that Willard and Hays ward school buildings have been put into use. These are used largely in high school work. Facilities within each building are somewhat lacking, especially in library space.

The overflow from the library goes into the auditorium and onto the campus.

Special interest is being taken in classes offered in education, rural problems, and school administration. Rural problem classes are especially recommended by the county superintendents of the district for those who plan to teach in village or rural schools in their counties.

Many Advanced Students Here.

A feature that is pleasing to the college authorities is the number of advanced students now taking work in the institution. Large numbers who finished the school when only two years of college work were offered are returning to take their degrees from the same school.

About 125 students will receive life teachers certificates at the end of the summer, making around 200 granted this year. Thirteen degrees were granted at the end of the spring term but a much larger class of probably 25 members will graduate at the end of the summer.

At an assembly meeting Thursday, the ministers of the city of Ada extended to the visiting students a welcome to their services during their stay here. Following the meeting county organizations were perfected and plans begun for activities.

A number of prominent speakers will lecture here throughout the term. A full chautauqua program will be given beginning June 15, with other programs for the amusement of the students planned.

Baseball and tennis will take care of the athletics for the summer. Coach Thompson plans to enter a team from the college in the city league now being organized, while the tennis courts are open to those wishing to play. A tennis tournament will be offered at some time later in the term.

Dog Life

In Which Canines of Rural Environment Must Adhere.

Rumor has it that tidings are being spread throughout the countryside that canines, whose domiciles are in the free and open spaces of the rural districts must provide themselves with the prostective accountrements of those residing within the city limits, to wit, a dog collar, while visiting in the city.

This is no doubt felt to be an impostion on those whose necks are not accustomed to the more formal decoration, but those who visit their city cousins will find city dwellers either so decorated or will not find them at all.

The city pound has been commissioned for use for the benefit of those luckless canines whose masters are unable to pay the required fee, or whose pedigrees are so conspicuous by their absence as to make the lowly dollar of more importance than the company of the dog.

An exodus of the undesirables is feared, leaving Ada bereft of at least a part of the nightly rejoicing (vocal) of the enthusiastic dogs who feel entitled to bay the moon unmolested by that bane of doggie existence, the pound man.

In any event, according to the announcement of the chief of police, the owners of the city dogs will either procure a dog license or abandon thir fourfooted companions to the care of the pound man. In such case, a speedy end to the troubles of those delivered over to the executioner is promised.

It is to be hoped that some who have not the requisite price for the continued existence of their beloved pets will not be deprived of the solace of their company. The dog holds a place in the heart of each youthful owner, as has been proved by the number of children applying for the license, that can be taken by no other thing under the sun, and it is hoped that no child who is so lacking in this world's goods that he cannot purchase the life of his dog will have to weep the departure from this vale of tears of a faithful companion.

It is not probable that the city authorities in inaugurating this campaign against unattached and unlicensed cnines foresaw the effect on the office of the city superintendent of schools. Those who work in that office, which formerly harbored the mayor himself, report that they have been overwhelmed since the announcement of the campaign with a continued stream of youngsters asking for licenses, tags, and any other things that might be required for their dogs to permit them to continue their doggy existence undisturbed by dreams of the pound, from which dogs who enter may not return.

REVIVAL AT COLBERT POSTPONED UNTIL JULY 16

On account of the lateness of crops, the revival meeting scheduled to begin at Colbert school house, two miles north of Ada, by the Davis-McNew evangelist party, will be postponed until July 16. At that time a tabernacle will be erected and other things done to add to the convenience and comfort of the congregations.

ROOF COMPLETED NOW ON PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The roof of the Presbyterian church building was completed Saturday after a losing fight of two weeks against the rains which kept flooding the basement which is used as a placed of worship by the congregation. The temporary roof has been leaking badly for sometime and the basement has been flooded on several occasions.

The windows of the manse part of the building have arrived and putting them in will probably be the next work.

Washington Catcher Pushing Harry Heilmann For Batting Honors of American League

CHICAGO, June 2—Harold "Muddy" Ruel, catcher for the Washington Senators, is challenging Harry Heilmann, the Detroit veteran for batting honors of the American League. Ruel gained 46 points during the week and is runner-up to the Tiger slugger with an average of .403. Heilmann, suffered a slight batting slump but still tops the players who have participated in 25 or more games with a mark of .425. Dick Reichle, of the Red Sox is third with .382.

The figures include games of last Wednesday.

Eddie Collins, of the White Sox, continues to play brilliantly. From present figures it would appear that Collins is going to have one of his best years. He is leading all major league players in stolen bases with 16 thefts. Only four less than he pilfered all last season. He also is hobnobbing with the leading batters.

Numerous fans and critics predict that Babe Ruth will pass the veteran Philadelphian Cy Williams in home run hitting before Independence Day. Williams has made 18 four baggers, and Ruth eleven. Ruth is leading in total bases with 95, his hits besides the circuit drives including 10 doubles and four triples. Ruth also leads as a run getter with 37.

Other leading batters: Cobb, Detroit .355; Miller, Philadelphia, .352; E. Collins, Chicago, .349; Jamieson, Cleveland, .342; S. Rice, Washington, .339; Burns, Boston, .336; Welch, Philadelphia, .336; Ruth, New York, .333; Witt, New York, 329; Williams, St. Louis, .329.

Johnny Mokan of the Phillies and Clyde Barnhart of the Pirates are making rapid strides toward the top among the batters of the National League. Far down in the list a week ago, they are smashing out base hits regularly. Mokan got 19 blows in his last ten games, and Barnhart poled ten hits in six games. Mokan's mark went from .333 to .373 and Barnhart's rose from .311 to 353.

Zack Wheat, Dodger outfielder, increased his lead among the regulars from .417 to .424. He obtained 13 hits in his last six games. His nearest rival is Carley Grimm of the Pirates, who has .400.

Frankie Frisch of the Giants leads the run-getters with 38, and Sammy Bohne of Cincinnati is showing the way to the base stealers with 11.

"Cy" Williams, of the Phillies, is in front among the major league home run hitters with 18.

Williams, besides leading in four baggers, has made nine doubles and three triples.

Other leading batters: Southworth, Boston, 379; Bottomley, St. Louis, .376; Mokan, Philadelphia, .373; Hornsby, St. Louis, .370; Frisch, New York, .367; Young, New York, .367; Barnhardt, Pittsburg, .353; Williams, Philadelphia, .351; Neis, Brooklyn, .345; Flack, St. Louis, .345; Bagwell, Boston, .345.

Joe Riggert, the St. Paul star, by getting an even dozen hits in his last eight games has climbed fast in the American Association. Bunny Brief, of Kansas City Blues still leads however. Brief, with an average of .412, is also proving himself the best run-getter with 40 tallies and is far out in front among the home run hitters with 12 circuit blows. Brief also has nine doubles and three triples, which places him first in total bases with 98.

J. Smith of Toledo is Brief's nearest rival in batting with .397.

Eddie Murphy of Columbus is showing the way to the base stealers with 13 thefts.

Other leading batters: Combs, Louisville, .375; Lamar, Toledo, .363; East, Minneapolis, .357; Riggert, St. Paul, .346; Brown, Indianapolis, .346; E. Murphy, Columbus, .346; Christenbury, Indianapolis, .342; Dressen, St. Paul, .341.

Haley of Nashville rose from 16th to 3rd place among the batters of the Southern Association. He now has an average of .360. Richbourg, a teammate, increased his lead and now tops the sluggers with an average of .388. R. Williams, of Mobile has .372.

Murray of Nashville by scoring 34 times leads the run getters. Neun of Birmingham has taken in base stealing from Moore of Atlanta. Neun has pilferred 16 sacks and Moore 12.

Three players are tied for home run honors with four each. They are Morrow, Chattanooga, D. Clark, Birmingham and Herman, Atlanta.

Other leading batters: Smith, Little Rock, .356; Tucker, New Orleans, .346; Prothro, Memphis, .344; Leonard, Chattanooga, .344; S. Clark, Birmingham, .343; Huhn, Mobile, .341; Foss, New Orleans, .338; Taylor, Birmingham, .336; Miller, Atlanta, .336; Miller, Birmingham, .331; Herman, Atlanta, .331.

Defeats of Omaha has the most runs—46, and Davis of Tulsa is leading the home run hitters with 12; T. McDonald of Omaha is leading in total bases, having 102. His hits include 19 doubles, 1 triple and 5 homers. J. Griffin of Omaha is showing the way with 16 thefts.

Other leading batters: O'Connor, Omaha, .385; T. McDonald, Omaha, .384; Wilcox, Omaha, 381; Lewan, St. Joseph, .380; Klugman, Des Moines, .373; J. Griffin, Omaha, .372; Blakesley, Wichita, .364; Genin, Des Moines, .358; C. McDowell, Wichita, .349.

LANDIS FAVORS BOYS SAND LOT

Baseball Ruler Claims Effect of Playgrounds Saving to Youth of Land.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 2.—A vacant lot where boys can engage in a game of baseball is the best insurance policy obtainable, Kennesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner, believes.

The former federal jurist, always with a deep interest in boys, said today that too few cities and towns have made the proper provision for a boys' playground. The average boy, he said, may not have a very great sense of justice, but no one has a keener sense of injustice.

"It is an injustice not to provide a spot where boys can enjoy themselves as will and with the knowledge they are not victims of injustice," Commissioner Landis said.

"One of my chief reasons for my interest in baseball is that I have always had a very deep interest in boys. Baseball must justify the confidence of the boy of today.

"Every boy, if he is normal, has a hero and in times of peace that hero is an athlete. In 99 cases out of 100 that athlete is a baseball player.

"To this hero, the boy builds an altar in his heart and keeps the candles burning. Unconsciously or otherwise, he turns to that altar day after day.

"It is my desire that the figure on that altar shall not totter, but always shall be worthy of the faith placed in it."

In Chicago, with its thickly populated districts, Judge Landis said he had frequently watched baseball games played in the streets, with street cars speeding in one direction and motor trucks in another so that the "Kids" had to stop their games every minute in order to allow a street car to pass over home plate.

"Conditions like that should not exist," he declared. "Boys should be provided with a place to enjoy themselves. It's the best insurance in the world against crime, mischief and disease."

COOPER SLATED FOR MAIN BOUT

Ada Fighter to Mix Things With Hendricks in Main Go on Card.

Ada will send a record delegation to Oklahoma City to see its native son mix in the fight ring with Heinie Hendricks, hard hitting Oklahoma university fighter in the Oklahoma City Coliseum next Friday night.

When Arche Cooper and Hienie Hendricks enter the ring for their 10-round go, Oklahoma City fans as well as Ada followers expect to see the stiffest match presented in the state ring for many seasons.

The Cooper-Hendricks fight, which was scheduled to be an introduction to a wrestling match, slated as the principal attraction, has been decked the main go on the card after the wrestling match was called off.

Cooper's last performance with Hendricks brought Oklahoma City fans to the support of the Ada middleweight by reason of a break with the popular decision through the referees award, the fans favoring Cooper.

Cooper's last match with Hendricks indicated that the Ada fighter possessed the ring generalship, ability and endurance to bid fair play in larger matches in the state. Press reports heralded Cooper as one of the cleverest in his class. Claude Sparks, another Ada product, will have an important part on the card with his match in which he meets KidBentley of Enid for six rounds. Bentley has been heralded by sport writers as a comer and in his last match placed a knockout over the hopes of his contender in the first round of a scheduled 10-round go.

Duke Devall and Mutt McKee will furnish the entertainment for the semi- finals in an 8-round match.

Cooper has been in training for the past week with Sparks and both are in good condition for the match Friday.

An effort is being put forth to secure special train service for those intending to go to the fight, A. R. Dixon, manager of the Ada fighters announced.

MUSTANGS ENTER ATHLETIC FRAT

Two Southern Methodist Stars Honored by Membership in Fraternity.

(By the Associated Press)

DALLAS, Texas June 2.—Fulfillment by two students at Southern Methodist University of the requirements for entry into Sigma Delta Psi, athletic fraternity, makes probable the establishment of a chapter of that organization here. John Mac Brooks of Dallas and Eugene Lindsey of Beaumont were successful in passing the last of the rigorous tests, and Coach Ray Morrison has announced that he has written the national keeper of the rolls of the fraternity, applying for a charter.

Both Brooks and Lindsey are star athletes, Brooks boasting the most remarkable athletic record yet hung up among the Mustangs. "Johnny Mac," junior this year, has been a four letter man for the last three years.

He entered in 1920 under the old Conference rules allowing a freshman to participate in varsity sports, and that year he made his letter in football, basketball, tennis, and track. In '21-'22, he made his letter in football, basketball baseball, and track. During the season just closed he lettered in football, basketball, tennis and track. He was captain of the football team last season, and has just been elected president of the Student's Association for next year.

Lindsey is a sophomore. He has starred in track, specializing in the weights, javelin and broad jump, was a member of the freshman football and track teams last year, and this year won his letter in track.

Several other S. M. U. athletes including James Stewart of Waxahachie and Abe Lincoln of Dallas, captain of track, have passed nearly all the requirements for entry into the Sigma Delta Psi. Coach Morrison announced that further tryouts would be held at the beginning of the fall term, and at that time the installation ceremonies probably will be held.

Sportdom

By Izzy Fan

With Arche Cooper and Claude Sparks throwing their pugilistic gloves in the state ring at Oklahoma City, Ada looms up with added cetrainty of becoming a garden for leather pushers.

In sending Cooper and Sparks to defend their claims before the fandom of the capital city, Ada boasts of two representatives truly local products.

In most instances, the annoucement from the training quarters of a certain pugilistic contender that a candidate for the fight ring is a product of a certain town, simply means that he is making his stay definite enough to secure the support of fans of that community and his clarity of principals in the ring are still a matter of uncertainty.

Sparks and Cooper are not transient mit artists. They live in Ada and have lived in Ada long enough to call their supporters in friendship terms. They are known for their clean sportsmanhip more than their ability in the manly art of fistic encounter.

That's why every fight fan in Ada is backing these true representatives of Ada sportdom in their fights next Friday.

What's the matter with Rogers Hornsby?

Last year, this idol of America's howling pop-bottle throwing baseball kingdom was sought everywhere.

When Rogers rapped the fence of the Cardinal park, all-America threw a fit.

Today his name is seldom mentioned.

Maybe the reason lies in the fact that Hornsby has stumped beyond recognition.

Baseball buries her dead without ceremony and raises her heroes in like rapidity.

Women must enter the baseball arena, Manager Green says.

Equal rights have been awarded the long trodden sex and now that absolute freedom has been granted, they must become full-fledged citizens by developing appreciation of the national game.

Manager Green asks women to take a part—as spectators—and to that end has thrown open the gates of the Ada Park in an invitation to attend the game here Monday, when the Ada club and Okemah tangle in the second game of the series.

MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY TO HONOR COACH YOST

ANN ARBOR, June 2.—The decision of the University of Michigan to name the new Ferry Field Club house the "Yost Field House" did not come as an inspiration but rather as the result of a demand to thus honor the football mentor, from followers of the Maize and Blue in every part of the world.

For months past the athletic authorities have been deluged with requests that this tribute be paid the coach. The letters came from alumni associations, state officials, men high in official life of this country, including Judge William Day of the Supreme Court of the United States, and the university body. The requests took the form of petitions, resolutions and letters which in some case approached demand.

One of the resolutions passed by the university board in control of athletics is typical. This resolution acknowledges that:

"Fielding H. Yost has faithfully and efficiently discharged the duties of his position with credit to the university and to himself; at all times has been earnest in advancing the fame of Michigan in the field of athletic endeavor; has impressed upon those with whom he came in contact ideals of fair play, clean living and of unselfish giving, and has been a contributing factor in moulding the character of those about him."

Farm Losses Reach Higher Estimate in Report of Growers

The loss to the farmers of this county as a result of the heavy rains of the last ten days exceeds early estimates according to reports from various sections Saturday by farmers themselves.

The sandy sections suffered worse than the black land, according to these reports. The small cotton was covered by the water and much of it covered so deep by sand that is could not come through. Much of the acreage has been replanted, however, and the planters are hopeful of satisfactory results.

Corn and other farm crops are reported as doing well. Some alfalfa hay was lost, but generally the plant has not materially suffered. There are some reports of the plant being damaged and some is dying.

Battle-Scarred French Warrior Wrests Crown From American Holder

KILBANE VICTIM PLANS COMEBACK

Alvie Miller.

Johnny Kilbane's ability to round into perfect form for his battle with Eugene Criqui after over a decade as champion has aroused in Alvie Miller's breast the hope that he can return to his old-time form and once more get into the fistic swim—perhaps to get a crack at Kilbane or his conqueror when the king falls. Miller was the victim in the meanest fight Kilbane ever put up. It was a grudge battle. Now Miller is planning to re-enter the game via a match with Mog Pugh at Lorain June 4.

Criqui, Bullet Snagged in World War, Beats Kilbane In Title Battle

NEW YORK, June 2.—Eugene Criqui the new featherweight champion of the world, will defend his title in a decision match with Johnny Dundee of New York within 60 days at the Polo Grounds, match maker, Tom O'Rouke of the Polo Ground athletic Club announced today.

Before today's fight, Criqui and Kilbane had posted forfeits of $10,000 each binding the winner to give Dundee his long sought chance to win the featherweight title.

POLO GROUNDS, N. Y., June 2.—The lithe-limbed, panther-like, warrior of France, bearing the scars of his fight of fights, boxed and pranced his way to a dramatic victory in the world's championship match here today.

Eugene Criqui, ex-poilu, came back to the ring after his jaw had stoped the German bullet at Verdun seven years ago, rose to the greatest heights of his pugilistic career when he knocked out Johnny Kilbane, veteran American holder of the world's featherweight crown, in the sixth round in an international battle before a crowd estimated at 25,000 in the Polo Grounds today.

It was a battle between master ring veterans of two continents, but in the end Criqui's greater stamina and punching ability carried him to triumph. Kilbane, who had held the world title for eleven years, had a shade the best of the defensive fighting but at critical moments he was unable to stem the tide of Criqui's cyclonic attack.

The little Frenchman, now 30 years old, has been fighting since he was 15. Before the war he engaged in more than 100 contests in which he had varied success. He was a clever boxer, having been trained in the English mould, but failed to rise higher than the near-champions because of the lack of punching power.

Then the war broke out and Criqui went to the front. At Verdun the left side of his jaw was shot away. Many months he lay in hospitals, during which time the rib of a sheep was grafted in his face. He was discharged from the hospital as unfit for military duty. After the close of hostilities he went back to pugilism. He turned from boxing to fighting and had marked success.

While he never actually has been knocked out, Criqui has failed to go the route on three occasions. In 1914 he retired in the twelfth round of a bout with Charley Ledoux, French bantam, but last year evened the score by knocking out his countryman in one round. In 1919, against Tommy Noble, English featherweight champion, Criqui went nineteen rounds, refusing to go on for the twentieth after claiming that a low blow had dislocated a leg tendon. Later the same year Noble held Criqui to a draw, while at London the Frenchman refused to continue in a fight with Pal Moore, the American, when his claim of foul was disallowed in the fourteenth round of a twenty round match.

Last year Criqui won the European feather title, knocking out Arthur Wyns, of Belgium, and Billy Matthews, of England, both claimants of the championship. Wyns took the count in the twelfth and Matthews in the seventeenth round.

Criqui, a clever boxer and fairly hard hitter, also holds the French featherweight crown. He was born August 15, 1893, in Paris.

Then at the age of 21 and at the height of his career, Kilbane outfought the slipping Attell throughout the contest, blinding him with straight lefts to the face and an occasional right smash to pay and ribs. Attell endeavored to draw his young opponent into a close-quarter slugging match but the wily Kilbane stood off, boxing his way to fame.

In the following year Kilbane barely saved his title in a 20-round bee with Johnny Dundee, of New York, holding the little Italian to a draw. Kilbane easily disposed of other pretenders to the featherweight throne, but in 1917 he grew too ambitious and tried to take the lightweight title from Benny Leonard. Leonard knocked out Kilbane in three rounds.

Kilbane has not defended his title in more than a year. In an indifferent exhibition against Freddy Jacks in Cleveland in 1921 he received the newspaper decision. Later he knocked out Danny Frush, an Englishman, in seven rounds. In 1922 he failed to don a glove, demanding all sorts of money for fighting. He repeatedly was challenged by Johnny Dundee, but refused to meet him unless his demands for large purses were met.

The New York boxing commission then declared Kilbane's title open in New York. Later Danny Frush and Johnny Dundee fought for it, and Frush being knocked out by the Italian veteran, Dundee was proclaimed champion, insofar as the New York commision was concerned. When Criqui came to the United States Dundee refused, at first, to relinquish his claim to the first engagement with Kilbane, but withdrew when promised a fight with the winner. Kilbane was automatically restored to good standing in this state when granted a license.

Kilbane is a master boxer and a clever ringman. He has defeated every featherweight of note excepting Dundee since he won the title. He was born in Cleveland of Irish-American parentage April 18, 1893.

SPEAKER PUTS ON LID FOR PLAYERS

Indian Chieftain Says Taboo Must Stand Against Smoke and Drink.

CLEVELAND, June 1.—A rigid training rule laid down by Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Indians, prohibits players from smoking cigarettes or drinking anything stronger than one-half of one percent. The veteran manager-star believes physical fitness offsets minor playing defects. He expects his men to be the stumbling block of all 1923 pennant aspirants.

The Cleveland outfield, with Speaker in center, Summa in right and Jamieson in left, is at least o a parity with any in the league, in the opinion of the Speaker. He regards Summa as the greatest outfielder found by a major league club since Ty Cobb marched out of Georgia to fame in the baseball pennant wars. In Jamieson he has the "triple-threat" excellent fielder, heavy hitter and ideal lead-off man.

In the infield speaker admits the attacking force is not so great as when Stuffy McInnis was at first and Garner at third, but the present initial and far corner sackmen Guisto and Lutzke are expected to offset in great defence, what they lack in offense. Another valuable addition to the Indian camp is Glenn Myatt former Milwaukee American Association catcher, who now alternates with Steve O'Neil in catching and wating for a pinch hitting opportunity.

While not claiming a great pitching staff, Speaker says he has a good lot of pitchers and an exceptionally strong force of substitute players and pinch hitters. In the outfield as substitutes he has Brower, formerly of Washington, who is also a first baseman, and Joe Connolly, both classy fielders and heavy hitters. Infield substitutes include Garner at third, and Stephenson at short or third. Five heavy batsmen are this available as pinch hitters.

Speaker, who says he will never be a bench manager, still has his habit of drawing two lines in the dirt before the plat and knocking the dirt from the cleats of his shoes before taking his position at the plate.

OKEMAH HERE IN TWO-GAME SERIES

Strong Pitching Forces to Lock Horns Here in Series Games.

Two of the feature games of the Ada amateur baseball season is contemplated in the two game series here Sunday and Monday with the Okemah amateur squad, which holds a record of seven victories and no defeats for the season.

With Sealy and Williams on the pitching staff for the two games, Manager A. O. Green is confident of a just share of the breaks in the games here Sunday and Monday.

Manager Green is especially anxious that fans see the Monday game and to insure a large attendance has opened the gates of the park in a special invitation for free admission to ladies.

Sunday's game is expected to evolve in a pitching duel between Sealy on the mound for Ada, and Moore, Okemah twirler, Sealy, Ada fans remember, brought defeat to the Ada club at Wilson and staved off an ignoble defeat on the same team here in a previous game. Sealy showed exceptional qualities here in the Ada-Wilson game and at the time, it became apparent that the Wilson catcher could not hold the delivery of the Wilson moundsman.

Moore, Okemah twirler, will be remembered by Ada fans as the twirler, who two years ago while sailing under the Beggs team brought defeat to Ada in an 18-inning game, pitching against Paul Waner. Moore will do moundwork Sunday for Okemah's squad.

Lefty Williams will officiate as the main fireworks in the Monday game with Alexander, Okemah pitcher as his opponent.

Sealy will pitch to Kyser in the Sunday game and Lee will be the battery partner in the Monday game for Williams.

Green announced that practically the same lineup as used last season would be in the play for both games this week.

SOONERS FINISH RECORD SEASON

Most Successful Baseball Year in History Ends in Soonerland.

NORMAN, June 2.—(Special)—The University of Oklahoma's baseball squad finished the best season in ten years with a percentage of .811 for the season and .666 in the Missouri Valley conference. The Sooners won 13 and lost four games during the season and in the Valley they won eight and lost four contests.

This record was partly due to powerful hitting of the Sooner wrecking crew lead by Howard Marsh, known as "Tarzan," of Fort Worth, Tex., who hit for a percentage of .507 and played in all games. Excellent pitching by Morrison, Durkee, Johnson and Aldridge accounted for the low opponent score.

Morrison won all of four starts; Durkee won four of five starts; Aldridge won three of four starts and Johnson won half of four starts. The hurlers allowed enemy teams a total of 74 runs in the 17 games compared to 141 of the Sooners gathered in the same time.

The team hitting average for the Sooners was .895 percent with six men hitting over .300 percent.

Let us all do our best at this tme because of the heavy expense in putting on the permanent roof the past month we need funds badly.

Any help from outside friends would be appreciated at this time.

Sunday night the Odd Fellows and Rebeccas will worship with us in a body in full regalia for such occasions. Let all the members make special effort to be present to welcome our guests.

Do not forget that Wednesday night is our last monthly get together till after the hot weather is over. So come and bring well filled baskets and let us eat, drink and be merry together from seven to ten.

During this time we want a full meeting specially of all the officials and the committees to discuss plans of action for the future in prosecuting the work of our building.

Now that the roof is on the building the next thing is the windows. We plan a buy a window campaign soon and will have seventy windows for sale at from $25 up to $500. Any one interested in a gift, memorial or presentation window should see the pastor or some member of the committee at an early date.

I have been so busy doing that there has been little time for writing or talking about it.

On Monday evening on the College campus will occur the annual student and faculty mixer, brought about in an endeavor to permit the students, especially those from out of the city, to get acquainted with each other and with the members of the faculty.

This mixer is given to the students by the faculty. It usually consists of games and contests in which all can take part. These will be under the direction of Miss Anna Weaver Jones of the faculty. The band will be on duty to provide musical entertainment.

FORD TRUCKS IN LINE OF DEMAND

Motorization of Delivery and Hauling system taking Papid Gait.

DETROIT, Mich., June 2.—Motorization of delivery and hauling systems in the cities and through agricultural sections where improved highways have greatly facilitated transportation continues to increase at a rapid pace.

One-ton trucks still lead in popularity by a wide margin.

This is strikingly shown in the sales of Ford trucks, the demand for which has more than doubled the sales of a year ago, during the first four months of this year, the Ford Motor Company delivered at retail in the United States a total of 59,978 trucks, 31,682 more than were sold during the same period last year.

The Ford Motor company during the week ending Tuesday, May 15, set up a new production record by turning out 39,303 cars and trucks for domestic use, it is announced by The Ford News. This exceeds by 250 the previous high weekly record of 39,503 established the week before.

The highest day of the last week was May 9 when a new daily production mark of 6,615 cars and trucks was reached.

At River Rouge the Fordson Tractor plants production for the week was 2,940.

The Lincoln division of the company produced 185 cars during the week ending Tuesday.

The Standard of Comparison

BUICK Satisfaction

is not a matter of speculation or hearsay; it is an established fact as old as the motor industry.

The great number of these dependable cars with years of service to their credit bespeaks the merit of BUICK trustworthiness.

Many car owners all over the land drove a BUICK as their first car. They have never driven any other make. There has been no desire to change, so satisfactory has been BUICK performance.

And every passing year has seen them more and more enthusiastic over the BUICK that they own.

BUICK'S reputation is world wide. It has stood every test known to the motor world and the greatest of these is the test of public opinion.

DEVOTED GUARDS HOLD UP LIGHT

Bishop's Light Guarding East Approach to English Waters.

(By the Associated Press)

LONDON, June 1. —Bishop's Light, rising from a foundation of jagged rock near the Scilly Islands, welcomes east bound liners to the English channel, and at the same time gives grim warning of the nearby labyrinth of dangers. It stands guard over waters where rest the skeletons of more shipwrecks than in any other marine graveyard of the world.

The light is 160 feet above the sea level, yet the waves that break forever at the base of the rock constantly dash over its topmost masonry. So trying is the service at Bishop's light that the three tenders are given frequent vacations ashore. Two months of duty with one month ashore is the rule.

During a recent spring storm the beams from Bishop's Rock came near to failing. The light weighs several tons, and revolves on supports resting in a circular trough of mercury, balanced so delicately a child may turn it by a touch of the finger. On this night the tower was so shaken by the heavy seas that much of the mercury was spilled out over the concrete floor of the light chamber. The three guards fell on their knees, scooped up the mercury in their hands and poured it back into the trough. Pursuing active puddle of quicksilver around a rough cement floor was not easy nor rapid work, and they finished finally with torn and bleeding hands.

If the tower of Bishop's Light ever crumbles the keepers there will not have the faintest chance for their lives. There is not even a foothold on the rough, slimy rock below them.

Cherokee Indians To Plan Legal Defense to Regain Land Grants of President

(By the Associated Press)

MUSKOGEE, Okla. June 1.—A Cherokee tribal council will be held at Fort Gibson, Okla., June 11, to consider ways and means of financing a proposed suit aginst the United States for the recovery of 7,000,000 acres of land in eastern Oklahoma.

The land was patented to the Cherokee nation in perpetuity by President Van Buren in 1838, old records show. But an agreement signed in 1902 provided that it should be parcelled out to members of the tribe, and now, it is said, more than half of the land has passed out of the possession of its original owners and their descendants.

In support of the proposed suit it is alleged that the agreement was forced by part-blood members of the tribe, and opposed by full-blood members. The convention will be, it is indicated, that such an agreement should have been made only by the native Cherokees of full Indian blood, and that therefore it was voided when men of mixed white and Indian blood were allowed to vote on its acceptance.

In connection with the proposed suit it is held by some members of the tribe that their position should be taken as demanding restitution of the lands they held in Georgia before their removal to Indian Territory in 1838, under the treaty of 1835. It is stated authoritatively that the treaty was never acted upon by the tribe but by an illegally appointed commission, so that its official ratification was never accomplished.

Col. Return Jonathan Meigs, revolutionary hero and government agent with the Cherokees for 22 years, recommended in 1820, it is shown by old records, that the Cherokees were so well advanced in the arts of civilization that they should be emancipated and made full citizens of the state of Georgia. President James Monroe, the only president who ever visited the Cherokee nation, after a trip in 1819, was said to be inclined to act favorably on Colonel Meig's report.

But Georgia negatived the proposal, and in the same year the report was made, the Cherokees formed a tribal government exactly modeled after that of the United States, and adopted a constitution. Under the presidency of Andrew Jackson, Georgia declared Cherokee laws void and extended her sovereignty over the tribe, surveyed the lands of the nation and disposed of them by lottery to white citizens of the state.

White allottees of the Indian lands and residents among the Cherokees were required by the state to subscribe to an oath of fealty to Georgia, and it was then they refused to do that Worcester and Butler, Presbyterian ministers living among the Indians, were sent to prison, only to be released on order of the United States Supreme court.

After the inauguration of President Andrew Jackson in 1828, he appointed as a commissioner to make a treaty with the tribe a minister named Schermerhorn. Twenty members of the tribe were named by Schermerhorn as a committee with which he would deal.

They declared Cherokee laws invalid, and proceeded to draw the celebrated Schermerhorn treaty of 1835, under which the tribe was awarded $5,000,000 for its land in Georgia. Sixteen thousand members of the tribe signed a protest directed to the president and congress which, although supported by Everett and Clay among other national leaders, was lost when the senate ratified the treaty by one vote.

The removal of the tribe to Indian territory followed, and 4,000 deaths occurred in the course of the migration records show.

TO SETTLE TITLE FOR LITTLE ISLE

Legal Proceedings to Bring About Clearance of Title for Romantic Spot.

BELGRADE— Laroma Island, where Richard Coeur de Lion was shipwrecked when he was sailing up the Dalmatian coast from the Holy Land, figures in a lawsuit recently heard in the Jugo-Slav courts.

The little island, which lies about half a mile from the shore of Ragusa, has had a romantic history. Richard Coeur de Lion built a monastery on it in gratitude for being saved from the sea. More recently it has had two unhappy royal owners, Emperor Maxmilian of Mexico and the ill-fated Crocwn Prince Rudolf of Austria.

Prince Rudolf's daughter, Elizabeth, received the island as a part of her dowry when she married Otto Windischgratz who is concerned in the recent legal proceedings. The town of Ragusa attempted to have the island transferred to the state according to the Treaty of St. Germain But Princess Elizabeth the owner, who is living divorced from her husband at Baden, asserts that she is no longer a member of the Hapsburg family, as she renounced all her rights on the occasion of her marriage.

The claim of Ragusa was based upon a precedence case heard in Czecho-Slovakia in which members of the Hapsburg family lost their property. The claim was upheld and rejected successively by two courts, but before it had time to go through the highest courts Princess Elizabeth relinquished all her rights in the island for the sum of £125,000 which was paid by the state.

The Fanning Bee Hive

By Norman E. Brown

"THAT'S ONE MORE
Nearer the gravy."

Remarks Leon Cadore, Brooklyn pitcher, as he turns in a victory these days. And he has been making the remark quite regularly so far this season.

Cadore's work last season was a great disappointment to the Dodger bosses. So when the matter of salary for the 1923 season came up they announced frankly that they didn't want to send good money after bad. Cadore could have the money if he delivered the goods. So they agreed on a bonus arrangement. Under it Cadore collects the bonus if he turns in 15 victories. This means he must win seven more than he did last season—his worst in his major career.

Cadore joined the Dodgers during the 1916 season after playing under option with Montreal part of 1915 and 1916 seasons. He announced to the baseball world in general he was ready for the big show in '16 by turning in 25 victories with but 14 defeats for the Canadian team.

He worked in three games for the Dodgers that fall. The next year he worked in 37 games and broke even with 13 wins and 13 defeats. The next season Cadore joined the navy. Back with the team in 1919 he won 14 and lost 12. The next year he collected 15 and lost 14 while the Dodgers were copping the pennant. Two years ago he won 13 and lost one more than that.

Cadore put the reverse English on Horace Greeley's advice. He started his career with Vancouver in the Northwestern league in 1911 and the very next year he went about as far east as anybody could—to Jersey City. The Int. team released him to Wilkebarre. The Browns got him in the draft in the fall of 1914 but he failed to report. Then the Dodgers took him up and farmed him to Montreal.

He's a native of Chicago and was born November 20, 1892.

Frisco Records Heavy Shipment During Past May

The heaviest shipments for the year were handled by the Frisco offices here during May. There is still considerable freight moving and it is expected to keep the local office busy for the entire summer.

The heaviest shipments so far have been livestock, cement, and farm implements. Cement is being moved out as fast as it can be shipped. Farm implements are coming in. Much corn has been moved this spring.

An indication of the work being done this spring is the fact that 1,769 cars of raw materials was hauled from the quarry at Lawrence to the cement plant at Ada during the month of May.
